Student Academic Integrity

Guilford Technical Community College (GTCC) is an academic community with its fundamental purpose being the pursuit of learning and student development. Consistent with this purpose and to uphold and support standards of personal honesty and integrity for all members of the college community, it is the policy of GTCC to enforce standards for academic integrity of our programs and courses. Conduct that violates standards of academic honesty and integrity is subject to academic disciplinary action. This conduct may include, but is not limited to, cheating, fabrication and falsification, plagiarism, abuse of academic materials and complicity in academic dishonesty. Any student who violates these standards is subject to academic disciplinary action. Please visit the Student Academic Integrity policy on our website for more information.

Student Complaint Policy

Guilford Technical Community College (GTCC) is dedicated to resolving student complaints in a timely, fair, and amicable manner. Students attending GTCC who would like to resolve a Grade Related or Non-Grade Related Complaint should follow the Institutional Student Complaint Policy, <https://supportservices.gtcc.edu/gtcc-student-complaint-policy/>.

After students have read the Institutional Student Complaint Policy, they will complete the Grade-Related Complaint Form or Non Grade Related Complaint Form located on the right side of the policy document.

Students who display such conduct shall be subject to disciplinary action under the college's disciplinary policy.

In addition to expectations for student behavior for this course provided above, a list of prohibited behaviors is documented in the College's Student Code of Conduct, https://www.gtcc.edu/_files/student%20policies%20and%20procedures/StudentCodeOfConduct.pdf. Included in the Code of Conduct is reference to the authority granted to instructors to remove students from the classroom when the student's behavior becomes a significant disruption to the learning and/or teaching environment.

Class Attendance

You are permitted two absences without penalty. Each subsequent absence will lower your participation and preparedness grade, which constitutes 15 percent of your final average.

Time Expectation

You will need to plan a minimum of 3-6 hours per week to complete this coursework. Please try to plan so you will not find yourself scrambling at the last minute to complete your assignments. If you need help, please ask as soon as you can. I may not be able to respond to how-to inquiries about an assignment on the day it is due.

Turnaround Policy

I will make every attempt to get back with you in a timely manner, but please allow 24-48 hours for an email response from me. I will not respond to inquiries on the weekend, so if you need to ask a question about an assignment, contact me by 5 p.m. on Friday.

I will do my best to get assignments back to you in a timely manner, however it may not be as quickly as you like. Some assignments will be easier for me to grade and return promptly, such as a short, in-class exercises, whereas more lengthy assignments, such as essays, will take longer. Please keep in mind that you/your section is not the only one that I teach. While you may have 1-3 assignments a week to complete for our class, I can sometimes have as many as ninety assignments to grade. Be patient. You will receive your grades in time to withdraw from the class if you need to do so.

Late Work Policy

Essay revisions should be posted to Moodle and to your blog before class on the due date. Posting an essay after class on the due date or on a later date will lower its grade. No essays will be accepted later than a week after the due date.

In-class assignments may be completed for credit in class only. There are no make-up opportunities. If you are absent on the day that such an in-class assignment is graded, you will not be assigned a grade of F (or zero). Instead, the daily assignment average will be based on the in-class assignments that you were present to complete.

Course Expectations

This course requires significant work and self-directed learning. As college students, it is important to utilize time management skills and avoid procrastination. All assignments created in a word processing program (i.e. MS Word) must be saved and uploaded in MS Word Docx (.docx) or MS Word Doc (.doc). If I cannot open your work because it is in the wrong format, you will not receive credit for the work. Do not email assignments unless I explicitly ask you to do so. All essay assignments must be uploaded into Moodle and posted to your blog before the deadline. Begin your assignments as early as possible to give yourself time to address any technical issues you may encounter. If you experience problems posting to Moodle, reach out to Technical Assistance for help. Their 24/7 number is 1-866-826-3748. If you encounter technical issues with your WordPress blog, email help@wordpress.com.

Essay Requirements

All essays must be typed, double-spaced, in 12 pt. Times New Roman font with one-inch margins, follow MLA formatting guidelines, and each must be submitted as a Microsoft Word document on Moodle. Please submit each essay assignment as an attachment. Essays must meet these formatting criteria. Failure to follow these guidelines will lower your grade for the assignment.

WordPress Blog Requirements

As practice in writing for a broader online audience, you will maintain a free WordPress blog for the class. As soon as possible, create your blog at wordpress.com. You will post to your blog an introduction to yourself (see Moodle for assignment details) as well as the three essays that you write for the course. I will also occasionally ask you to post comments to your classmates' blogs and to mine, janelucas.com.

Plagiarism

Plagiarism is a violation of ethics; it is the act of presenting someone else's words or ideas as your own. The English and Humanities Departments recognize two levels of plagiarism. Each is serious, resulting in grade penalties, and each results in an official GTCC Academic Honesty Violation. For more details about plagiarism, see the English/Humanities Departments' Plagiarism Policy posted to our class site in Moodle and pages GT9-11 of A Writer's Reference. In short, plagiarism is wrong and may cause you to fail the course.

Contractual Agreement

This syllabus is your contractual agreement for participation in the course. By continuing in this course, you acknowledge receipt of this contract and agree to the terms as specified above or as amended according to the terms specified in this syllabus. The syllabus and its terms are non-negotiable.

Subject to Change

This course syllabus is subject to change as determined by the course instructor. If changes are needed, an addendum to the syllabus will be provided to each student and implementation of changes will be set forth at date that addendum is issued.
